TC Spotlight on Success 31

Hello Everyone!

Hello everyone and Happy New Year!

I usually focus my fourth quarter letter on all the progress ACN has made as a company over the course of the previous year. But for the first time, I'm not going to do that. It's not because ACN hasn't made incredible strides during the past year - because we have. And it's certainly not because the ACN Opportunity isn't bigger and better than it's ever been - because it definitely is. There is just way too much to be excited about in our future to look back now! But I do want to take a moment to recognize ACN's top performers for 2005 - those who have gone above and beyond. In fact, the pages of this final 2005 magazine are filled with the faces and stories of ACN's top producers, those who have achieved outstanding accomplishments in 2005. We look forward to officially recognizing each of ACN's top producers of 2005 during our upcoming 2006 International Convention in Fort Worth, Texas, February 10th - 12th.

Now onto the new year...and what an exciting year it's going to be!

I've said it before, but I think this is important enough to say again: I assure you that now more than ever, everything you have witnessed up to this point in ACN has simply been laying the foundation...and it all starts in 2006! In fact, the saying, "you ain't seen nothing yet" couldn't ring more true than at this very moment.

As part of my first message to you this year, I have the unique opportunity of providing a special sneak peek at ACN's theme for 2006 - a theme that will be carried throughout ACN this year. We have officially coined 2006 as the year "Without Boundaries." Whether it's ACN's DigitalPhoneService allowing customers to "Communicate Without Boundaries," or the ACN Opportunity providing Independent Representatives with a chance to enjoy "Life Without Boundaries," at ACN, 2006 is about doing it all "Without Boundaries!"

I realize for many people, thinking about life without boundaries is a little uncomfortable. After all, from the time we are babies - from our very first memories - boundaries are placed upon us. As infants, we can't go near the stairs or open the kitchen cabinets. These simple gates and child proofing set our boundaries for us as children. As young adults, we couldn't ride our bikes past a certain point, or stay out past our curfews. Our boundaries were set by our parents and the threat of being punished. And as adults, we experience the most strenuous boundaries of all - those placed upon us by our jobs. How many times have you said to yourself, "I can't go on vacation, I have to work" or "I can't ask for a raise; my company is struggling financially." At what point did it become OK for us to settle for the boundaries our jobs often place on us? No child has ever said, "I want to be stuck in a job where I am unappreciated and under-compensated when I grow up." At what point in our lives did we lose sight of our dreams and allow these boundaries to take over?

At ACN, 2006 is all about shattering these boundaries and changing our way of thinking. But perhaps you are already living without boundaries. That's why 2006 is also about helping others shatter their pre-conceived boundaries...for good. With the arrival of ACN Digital Phone Service and Video Phones, customers can truly communicate face to face, eliminating the boundaries of traditional phone service. And what about the upcoming arrival of ACN's Wireless Service? The name itself - wireless - actually means no boundaries, and with ACN, customers will finally have a better alternative for their wireless provider. What about actual geographic boundaries? The ACN Opportunity isn't constrained by borders. In fact, ACN is gearing up to expand into new countries in both Europe and the Asia Pacific region. Simply put, there are no longer any excuses for not talking to everyone you come in contact with about the ACN Opportunity. After all, you never know who is living under the constant pressure of their boundaries.

And it has never been easier to present the ACN Opportunity to everyone you meet than right now. In fact, ACN is featured in the current issue of Success From Home magazine on newsstands now. Seventy percent of the entire issue focuses on ACN - our products and services, our industry and our business opportunity. Each copy also features our brand new Presentation DVD absolutely free. Make sure you get your hands on as many copies as possible as this is quickly becoming ACN's most powerful piquing interest tool.

I'd like to close this quarter's letter by asking you to put some thought into your life and your current situation. I recently read a quote that said, "When people go to work, they shouldn't have to leave their hearts at home." Are you leaving your heart at home every day? If so, you need to make a change in your life. ACN's most successful representatives aren't successful because they have a secret ingredient or a special skill. They're successful because they put their heart into their businesses, and that combined with hard work and 100 percent commitment is all it takes to discover true success.

Or maybe someone you know is leaving their heart at home because they are stuck in a traditional job. The sad truth is that the majority of people who work a traditional job, whatever that job may be, are leaving their hearts at home when they walk out their doors every morning. They go to work while putting families and personal lives on the backburner. That is just no way to live. Don't you owe it to these people to show them how they can bring their heart back into their every day? ACN is that vehicle. I encourage you to share this simple statement with everyone you encounter, and make sure that for you and your loved ones, your heart is always a part of your every day.

Remember, everything we have planned in 2006 is about eliminating emotional and physical boundaries - for you, your prospects and your customers. Here's to an incredible 2006!

God Bless,

Greg Provenzano
ACN President and Co-Founder

ACN Europe

The first quarter of 2006 is going to be as exciting as roller coaster ride for our European representatives with the introduction of five new services in the coming weeks!

The UK and Denmark will see the introduction of line rental, enabling them to offer a complete end-to-end fixed telephone service to their customers with single billing. Switzerland will be the first European country to offer high-speed Internet services, opening up additional revenue streams as well as paving the way for future services such as VoIP. Netherlands and Denmark are a few weeks away from being able to offer mobile services to their customers. Anticipation is running high with our representatives, so it's hardly surprising that the forthcoming International Convention in Nice, France (Palais Nikaia, March 3-5, 2006) is promising to be our best yet with record pre-registration numbers.

The new year ahead of us promises to be the most action-packed period in ACN history with a new compensation plan to drive momentum even further. Europe is set to break records in 2006 with new countries, products and services further expanding the opportunity for new representatives and adding new revenue streams for our existing ones. So buckle up because this ride is just about to start!

ACN'S NEWEST

Deven Davis

"I believe that people often overestimate what they can do in one to two years and grossly underestimate what they can accomplish in three to five. Make that long term commitment. Believe in the 'you' that can emerge five years from now and work everyday to make that person a reality."

Regional Vice President, Deven Davis

Deven and wife Kim were at the lowest points of their lives when they were introduced to ACN. A failed business had put them into heavy debt. The Utah couple was so financially strapped that they were living in a relative's basement to avoid bankruptcy. But hearing the ACN Opportunity gave the couple renewed hope.

When Deven saw how ACN made dreams come true, he asked a few questions and signed a Representative Agreement on the spot. The hard work of Deven and Kim Davis paid off as they climbed out of debt and established a solid ACN business. Their success culminated in Anaheim where they were promoted to Regional Vice Presidents.

"What I saw in ACN was a chance to be a champion," Deven told the Anaheim crowd. "I looked at the kids, and I thought, 'They need to have the life that they deserve, and this is the vehicle.'"

Deven said he found no magic formula for success. But he discovered many common traits shared by ACN's top leaders – a long-term commitment, strong work ethic and 100 percent coachability to the ACN system.

Bobby Jo and Kerm Jackson

Bobby Jo and Kerm Jackson proved early in their lives that hard work and determination would bring success. The Utah couple just didn't like the kinds of returns they were getting for their efforts.

After starting her own medical transcription company, Bobby Jo found little free time to take care of her family. And Kerm's expertise as a mechanical engineer meant long hours and an exhausting commute.

When they heard about the ACN Opportunity, they signed up immediately. With ACN, it took Bobby Jo just eight short months to walk away from what she had done for 20 years. And Kerm's hard work allowed him to rely on residual income from ACN when he was laid off from his job.

They worked hard and realized their dream, riding it all the way to Anaheim to be recognized as ACN's newest Regional Vice Presidents. On stage, Bobby Jo thanked her team and said she believed her faith played a role in her success at ACN.

"The only way not to succeed is to quit. Don't quit!"

Regional Vice Presidents, Bobby Jo and Kerm Jackson

REGIONAL VICE PRESIDENTS

Keith and Crystal McMullin

Running a struggling day care center and working for a faltering Internet business were already enough to try the spirit of Keith and Crystal McMullin. But the Utah couple's biggest heartbreaker was watching their son nearly die in a car accident. They quickly began to question their priorities.

"The thing that got me was I had to fight to keep my job while I was fighting to save my son's life. That's because my job was not forgiving. And that is not worth it," Keith said.

When someone introduced them to ACN, they fell in love with the possibility of more freedom and residual income. They signed up immediately. And with persistence and patience, Keith and Crystal rose through the ranks while building a solid business.

In December, they were promoted to Regional Vice Presidents during the Anaheim International Training Event. On stage, the couple said ACN has given them a better life and new friends.

"I love this company because it's given me everything that I've ever wanted and that is just to be with my family and friends and be involved with amazing people," Crystal said.

Keith added, "This business is absolutely amazing. It has given me back time that I didn't have with my son and my wife. And the greatest thing about this is I am watching people on our team succeed, and that means more to me than anything else."

"I love this company because it's given me everything that I've ever wanted and that is just to be with my family and friends and be involved with amazing people."

Keith and Crystal McMullin

Danny Bae

Danny Bae is proof that anyone with determination can be successful with ACN. The Las Vegas resident came to the United States in 1997 and spoke very little English. He became known to many as the "hello man."

But this Korean native had a strong will to learn the language and make a life in America. A few years after studying at UNLV, Danny was introduced to network marketing. He found nothing but disappointment until he was introduced to ACN. He didn't understand much, but he saw the numbers. And they made sense.

Danny memorized the ACN presentation and delivered it frequently. His system worked so well, he rose through the ranks and was promoted to Regional Vice President during the International Training Event in Anaheim.

"If I could give everyone in this room advice, it's believing in yourself. It's been an incredible past few years of my life and I just cannot wait to see what's going to happen next."

Regional Vice President, Danny Bae

TC on the Move

Robert Cho

Robert Cho and his parents immigrated to the United States from South Korea in search of the American dream. ACN helped him find it.

While sweating 60-hour weeks at his parent's fast-food restaurant, his friends introduced him to the ACN Opportunity. Robert had no network marketing experience or any kind of business background, but his determination to learn the ACN system led to instant success and ultimately a solid organization.

Robert appreciated the positive environment with ACN and the concept of working as a team. It was unlike anything he heard about in "normal corporate America." It was different.

"When I first saw the business, I thought it was the best opportunity to achieve my American dream," he said. "ACN gave me an equal opportunity. If you do the work, you get paid."

Working with ACN even improved his English, Robert said. It also made him grow as a person, giving him more business sense and providing a different perspective on life.

His advice to others? Go to ACN's International Training events and follow the proven system that ACN built.

"As long as people don't give up and they try hard, they can make it happen," he said.

His advice for others... "Go to ACN's International Training events and follow the proven system that ACN built. "As long as people don't give up and they try hard, they can make it happen."

ETT on the Move

Jeffrey Street

Year after year, Jeffrey rejected the ACN Opportunity presented by one of his friends. Instead of spending a small amount to start an ACN business, he risked $50,000 to start a cell phone business.

At home one day, Jeffrey zeroed in on a quote hanging on his wall: "The day that you know that you've made it is when you can't go to sleep because reality is better than your dreams." He suddenly realized how far off his intended path he had fallen. The same day, Jeffrey's ACN friend returned with a new red convertible and a picture of a Video Phone. This time, Jeffrey said yes.

"I thought I was too busy to do it because I didn't understand how powerful a system there was in place for me to plug into," he said. "I have never had the level of commitment and support from anyone that I have ever worked with."

Jeffrey found great reward with ACN, earning a sizable commission check that convinced him the sky was the limit. Success became a numbers game. It didn't matter whether someone said yes or no. The more people he showed the opportunity to, the more representatives he had on his team.

"I look for quality, not quantity. Quality business partners will lead you to enormous quantities of business partners automatically," he said.

Jeffrey still regrets not saying yes to the ACN Opportunity the first time.

"It took me five years to see this opportunity. If I had taken this seriously the first time I saw it, I would be financially independent today," he said.

His advice for others... "I look for quality, not quantity. Quality business partners will lead you to enormous quantities of business partners automatically."

RVP Retreat 2006 TENERIFE, CANARY ISLAND

The Grand Hotel Bahia Del Duque constitutes the perfect place for anyone seeking paradise. This colonial-style hotel provides the breathtaking setting for the RVP retreat, where ACN's most successful leaders are invited to "live the difference."

With staff dressed in traditional Canarian costumes, personalized service and amazing architectural designs, the Bahia Del Duque is ideal for spending several relaxing days. The hotel complex has been built on the slopes of a hill, overlooking the beach and offering wonderful views of the silhouette of the nearby isle of La Gomera. It is surrounded by gardens that are perfect for a peaceful walk.

Amenities include five swimming pools, furnished sun terrace, three pool bars, children's playground, four lounges, five bars, hairdresser, shops, evening entertainment, putting green, game rooms, table tennis, volleyball, gym, massage, sauna and Jacuzzi.

You can also tour Tenerife, the main island of the Canaries, which is said to be the highest point of Atlantis before the continent sunk. This island now hosts a thriving tourist industry in the shadow of the third largest volcano on Earth. One of the island's most popular attractions is the Loro Parque, home to the world's most important Parrot collection with over 300 species, an amazing Sea-Lion show, Parrot Show, Aquarium with Shark tunnel, Gorillas, Orchid House, and the world's largest Penguinarium. Whether you want to sip sangria in the heat, make the most of the fiesta atmosphere or roam the islands' rugged terrain, Tenerife has something for everyone.

President's Club Retreat

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

The Hyatt Regency Lake Las Vegas Resort, Spa and Casino is just 17 miles from the Strip, but it feels like it's worlds away. Even though Vegas is a desert town, the Hyatt is located on the shores of the beautiful, private Lake Las Vegas. The desert and mountain scenery is breathtaking and so are the amenities within the Mediterranean-themed resort. There is a 10,000-square-foot casino and a luxurious spa.

Relaxation and escape is the name of the game at the Hyatt. Whether it's spending your time on one of two Jack Nicklaus-designed golf courses, fishing on the lake or shopping in the quaint MonteLago Village shopping area, you are sure to enjoy your vacation.

This special retreat is for ACN's most promising TCs who are President Club members, and have earned a minimum goal of 250 qualified Team Trainers in their open line organizations during the calendar year (January – December). This annual retreat includes a unique training session with ACN Co-

Founders. Each TC President Club member is invited to bring one guest, and we will pick up the tab for four days of fun, including

The networking opportunities available exclusively through these annual retreats provide representatives with an even better understanding of the vision and integrity behind ACN, while adding fresh insight into new techniques for building their businesses when they return home.

Law and the International ACN Family

By Robert T. Stephan

In October, I had the privilege of attending the ACN International Training Event in Munich, Germany. Little did I realize that many of the same legal issues that confront ACN in North America are also of concern in all of the countries that embrace the ACN family. There is the old saying that "it's a small world" and this becomes readily apparent at ACN meetings throughout the world.

To be sure, each country has a unique set of laws, but within those legal codes there is a common strand that is embraced by ACN. ACN does everything in its power to adhere to the legal principles that are mandated in the many countries in which its Independent Representatives maintain their business opportunities. Along with the variances in law, ACN has a set of guiding principles that apply universally.

I addressed the approximately 7,000 people attending the Munich event on the important issue of slamming. A reputable Independent Representative does not and would not submit the name of a customer for telephone service unless that person had actually requested the service. To do otherwise would not only violate the law of a nation but the rules set out by ACN. This is, of course, referred to as slamming and ACN has zero tolerance for anyone who slams a customers. It results in deactivation.

In addition to the specific issue of slamming, ACN does not permit any unethical or illegal activity of any kind. Each Independent Representative is presumed to know and follow the law of any country in which he or she is operating. Throughout the world, ACN prohibits Independent Representatives from making false or misleading representations of any kind including but not limited to misrepresentations about ACN services or the ACN Compensation Plan.

The bottom line is that adherence to law is not only expected but demanded by ACN. Those who violate the rules of ACN or the laws of the country in which they operate not only hurt themselves but also the ethical Independent Representatives who are properly operating their business.

It is out of respect for the law of all nations in the ACN family that ACN must exercise its judgment to determine if a representative should be suspended or deactivated for violations.

It's really pretty simple. Just tell the truth – do what is right – respect the rights of others. That is what ACN expects.

The former Kansas Attorney General, Robert T. Stephan, serves on the ACN Legal Advisory Committee along with former Kentucky Attorney General Chris Gorman and former Arizona Attorney General Grant Woods.

Stepping into a New Age The Year in Review

3 ... 2... 1... We have liftoff! In December, ACN Representatives gathered in Anaheim and witnessed the representative launch of ACN Digital Phone Service. This new and exciting service utilizes VoIP technology to allow customers to make local and long distance calls over their broadband Internet connection with substantial savings. This new product offers representatives an exciting way to grow their business.

But the launch wasn't all. Representatives previewed the Video Phones that are available with ACN Digital Phone Service. Using cutting-edge technology, these devices allow subscribers to place video calls in real-time to other subscribers. In Anaheim, hundreds of representatives became the first to sign up for this revolutionary device.

Details were also unveiled about the Soft Phone feature, an add-on service that converts a PC or laptop computer into a full-functioning telephone. The Soft Phone allows users to make calls from anywhere in the world without lugging around bulky equipment.

The year 2005 also witnessed the launch of Canada Local with a Flex Advantage Plan that has swept the Canadian marketplace. ACN Flex Advantage bundles local and long distance calling services, all in one, easy-to-understand bill. It also includes great features such as Voice Mail, ACN-2-ACN Free Calling, Call Waiting and Call Forwarding.

Expansion was the name of the game in 2005 with South Carolina, Massachusetts and Indiana added as new local markets in the United States. This greatly expands the potential people your ACN Advantage customers can talk to absolutely free with ACN-2-ACN Calling.

ACN also rolled out new pricing for Advantage Home, Plus and Unlimited plans for new customers in a long list of markets. Each new plan includes two domestic long distance calling options to best suit the needs of your customers, and the same great calling features remain available.

EVENTS

ACN's first North American Event in 2005 took place in Dallas on February 25-27 and included incredible announcements, not to mention a wonderful spirit that brought together thousands of representatives from around the world. New business tools were announced, updated Piquing Interest CD-ROMs and Opportunity Presentation DVDs were available for the first time and participants got the first look at a new Team Trainer Success System.

In May, ACN's International Training Event was back in our hometown of Detroit to celebrate the company's presence in 18 countries and welcome Excel Canada to the ACN family. Plus, ACN was able to help two charities this time with the help of donations from ACN representatives. A total donation of $33,571 was presented to Mothers Against Drunk Driving and Variety Children's Charity.

Philadelphia was host to one of the most memorable weekends ever as thousands gathered in September for ground-breaking announcements and crucial training. Participants heard about ACN Digital Phone Service and new marketing tools to help them reach new heights.

No one could contain the excitement in December as representatives converged on Anaheim to participate in the official Representative launch of ACN Digital Phone Service and view demonstrations of the Video Phones and Soft Phone. This final event of 2005 was a great way to prepare for a wild ride in 2006.

PRODUCTS

SUPPORT

The outstanding support system ACN provides has grown with the new online rate sheets for Advantage markets, as well as new LOAs featuring separate listings for long distance and local monthly fees. The support system also includes new competitive comparisons, allowing you to easily relay to customers how well ACN Advantage is positioned against similar plans offered by the incumbent.

In the fall, ACN introduced the monthly Opportunity Call, a wonderful tool to allow representatives to share the ACN Opportunity with prospects directly from President and Co-Founder Greg Provenzano and other company leaders. The conference call always includes powerful success stories from ACN representatives and allows prospects to hear firsthand the vision our leaders have for ACN's future. It can also provide a spark in both new and seasoned representatives to build their businesses to new heights. Each call is recorded and placed on MyACN.

Also, ACN introduced a new North American Team Trainer Success System during the year. The revised kit contains everything a new representative needs to begin building their business.

And to continue the motivation needed not just for business, but for life, ACN launched its ACN Bookstore: Read to Succeed program. The ACN Bookstore, found on MyACN, includes books, cassette tapes and CDs that were personally selected and recommended by ACN's Co-Founders.

THIRD PARTY VALIDATION

In the fall, ACN was featured in multiple editions of the national publication of USA Today. Articles and advertisements featuring ACN appeared in the Life section of the newspaper in September and October 2005. USA Today has approximately 5.6 million readers and is America's best-selling newspaper.

Also, ACN was the spotlight for the December issue of Smart Business Detroit magazine. The article was titled "Tapping the Network," and explained how the founders of ACN built a $500 million company by using a business-unusual approach to selling services direct.

Achievements made both by the company and representatives in 2005 also prompted Success from Home magazine to feature ACN in their March 2006 issue. (See more on page 6.)

What to Expect in 2006

ACN is becoming like your favorite buffet. It's hard to decide what to eat because everything is so good. In 2006, ACN adds several tasty items to the menu of services, allowing you to meet all the communication needs of your customers.

ACN steps into the future with ACN Digital Phone Service. This cutting-edge technology adds more to your menu of telecommunications products and provides new opportunities to increase your business. It will create a lot of excitement for customers who want to stay in touch with family and friends without a costly telephone bill. And if that isn't thrilling enough, ACN offers Video Phones that allow live face-to-face communication across the world.

In mid-2006, get ready for the official launch of ACN Wireless. With this new service, we are giving you even more reasons to get involved in the ACN Opportunity. And ACN Wireless promises great plans with exciting features such as free nights and weekends and ACN-2-ACN Free Calling.

A thorough training presentation on ACN Digital Phone Service will be made available online, giving you a better understanding of VoIP technology and great tips on selling this cutting-edge service to customers.

In addition, ACN's Co-Founders will introduce an enhanced training program that's been simplified and can easily be duplicated. Representatives will experience this crucial training and priceless networking opportunities at our life-changing International Training Events. These high-energy conferences will take place at various locations across the country and allow you to give your business a boost with motivational messages from the founders, inspiring testimonials and the chance to network with thousands of other ACN representatives.

Due to our growth, ACN will open a new Corporate Headquarters in Charlotte, North Carolina, and our facilities in Farmington Hills, Michigan, will continue their focus on the core customer and representative operations. The Michigan offices will continue their focus on the core customer operations, while at our new corporate headquarters, a small team of executives will work daily with the Founders to focus on new strategic business opportunities for our company.

Also, ACN continues to grow throughout the world with plans in 2006 for expansion into New Zealand and additional European countries.

Get ready for a fresh look for MyACN, your Representative Portal. The new design has more resources, an easier-to-use format and a useful search tool that allows you quick access to the documents and information you want. The updated portal also gives you access to new Distributor Web Sites and Downline Reporting Tools.

Distributor Web Sites provide you an exciting way to market your business online with little work by you. ACN will ask for certain information and then create the web site, providing a personalized and customizable online tool for promoting all of ACN's products and allowing prospects an easy way to take advantage of the ACN Opportunity. Plus, ACN Representatives with a distributor web site have access to special reports created through a new reporting framework.

Downline Reporting Tools provide enhanced reporting and replace the WebTools application. This key business tool offers updated reporting capabilities in an easier-to-use framework. Reports are interactive and allow you to customize the information you want and monitor the status of representatives in your downline.

ACN's new Compensation Plan will go into effect March 1st. This enhanced plan includes a new position of Executive Team Leader and new qualifications for some existing positions. It's designed to help you motivate your team and grow your business. Team-CAB Bonuses will also be enhanced. Look for more details coming soon...

TC Spotlight on Success

Simon Turcotte
& Jonathan Deziel

Before ACN, Jonathan Deziel spent four years making doors and windows with his hands. The grueling job usually required 60 to 70 hours a week.

Someone finally asked the Quebec man if he was tired of slaving for long hours and small wages, and he found out about ACN and the opportunity to have hard work rewarded. With little knowledge of network marketing, Jonathan soaked up everything he heard at an ACN presentation.

"I was so exhausted mentally and physically at my job that ACN looked like a miracle! After I heard the presentation, I understood that my life would have meaning from that point forward. I was so excited and happy that I cried all night long!" Jonathan said.

Meanwhile, friend Simon Turcotte was supplementing his accounting job by working as a representative for a telecommunications company that was struggling. Like ACN, it was a network marketing company but was lacking stability and commitment.

"The leadership and training were non-existent. The founders never put into action what they promised us," Simon recalls. "The company was going down. So my mentor invited me to meet the ACN Co-Founders in Montreal. That's when I realized I had found a real family!"

Soon, friends Jonathan and Simon teamed up and became part of the same ACN family. The hard-working entrepreneurs built a solid ACN organization together. They were recently honored as President's Club members and the top Team Coordinators in North America for the fourth quarter of 2005.

For them, the most appealing aspect of ACN has always been the compensation plan and the chance to be paid month after month, year after year, on a single sale. And they are selling products and services that people use every day. Plus, ACN gives them both a chance to meet positive people who share their same values.

The friends who once doubted Jonathan for considering ACN are still stuck in the same dead-end jobs. Jonathan looks back and wonders how he ever survived his job with the door and window industry.

"My previous career was a job, and ACN isn't! So everything is different. But the most important thing for me is that I wake up every morning with a smile!"

This powerful pair has the following advice for new representatives: always think long-term, avoid negative people, and believe in yourself.

"If you keep working on the bad days and the good days, you will reach the top!" Simon said. "In ACN, you can't fail!"

*"If you keep working on the bad days and the good days, you will reach the top!"
